CONTROL STICK FUNCTION

The Nintendo® 64 Controller contains a Control Stick which uses an analog system to read the angles and direction of its movement. This allows subtle control that is not possible using the conventional + Control Pad.

When turning the Control Deck power ON, do not move the Control Stick from its neutral position on the controller.

If the Control Stick is held at an angled position (as shown in the picture on the left) when the power is turned ON, this position will be set as neutral. This will cause games using the Control Stick to operate incorrectly.

To reset the neutral position once the game has started, let go of the Control Stick so it can return to its center position (as shown in the picture on the left) then press START while holding down the L and R Buttons.

The Control Stick is a precision instrument, make sure not to spill liquids or place any foreign objects into it.

LOADING

1. Make sure the power is OFF on your Nintendo® 64 Control Deck.
2. Insert your ALL STAR BASEBALL '99™ Nintendo® 64 Game Pak into the Control Deck as described in the instruction manual.
3. Insert Controller into socket 1.

Note: This game is for up to 4 players. Each must insert a controller into a socket at this time. You must have a Controller in socket 1.

4. If you wish to save game data, insert a Nintendo Controller Pak (sold separately).
5. Slide the power switch to ON (important: make sure not to touch the Control Stick when doing so).

This game is compatible with the Controller Pak and Rumble Pak accessories. Before using the accessories, please read the Controller Pak and Rumble Pak accessory instruction booklets carefully. Follow on-screen instructions to determine when you should insert or remove the Controller Pak and Rumble Pak accessories.

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to All Star Baseball '99™. I'm really happy to have a part in bringing you this game, because it is as close to the excitement of being on the field as you can get. The stadiums are incredible looking, and with the great play-by-play announcing, it's hard to believe you're not on the diamond. Especially when you see your favorite players in their actual batting stances!

This game is satisfying, because it has all the realistic features a big league player appreciates. The gameplay is crisp and the stats are all there. I can be a General Manager and a player and play all kinds of modes, from a Quick-Play Exhibition game to a full 162 game MLB Season, complete with the Interleague rivalries that are such an exciting part of the game. The All- Star Game is always a thrilling mid-season match-up, and the Home Run Derby™ is great fun, too. Getting to the Playoffs is tough in the majors, but it's easy in All-Star '99—just select it! Of course, one of my favorite features is the Create A Player mode, where you can create a seven foot Forkballing Frankenstein or a stocky little fireplug with plenty of home run power. You've got so much gameplay here, I hope you don't forget to get to the ballpark! See you on base!

Options

(Please see options on page 16)

Controller Setup

After selecting Play Ball in Exhibition, Season or Playoffs, you will come to the Controller Setup screen. A controller will appear in the center (non-playing) position, one for each controller plugged in.

- Press ← or → on Control Pad/Stick to move your Controller under the logo of the team you wish to play on. If they wish to, all the players may play on the same team. The computer will control the opposing team.
- Press ↑ or ↓ on the Control Pad/Stick to toggle control skill level for each player between Rookie, Veteran, and All-Star skill levels.

Note: Selecting Manager disables on-field control. (You will be able to make substitutions and to control offensive and defensive strategies.)

- When all players who wish to have chosen a team and skill level, PRESS THE START BUTTON.

Offensive/Defensive Control

Once you have chosen a team to play on, you can select which players on that team you wish to control on offense and defense, and which players you would like the computer to control. Different game players can divide control of the same ball player between defense and offense. For example, if two players choose the Mariners, one could control Jay Buhner in the field, and the other could control him when he is at bat. Default control is distributed as evenly as possible according to the number of game players on a team.

- Press ↑ or ↓ on the Control Pad/Stick to highlight a player in the lineup.
- Press ← or → on Control Pad/Stick to move highlight between OFFENSE and DEFENSE.

- Press C ▼ to switch between an offensive and defensive position.

When you're through with all this setup stuff, press the START BUTTON to start playing!

Before we go on to discuss Season play, let's turn to:

PAUSE OPTIONS

Press the START BUTTON at anytime during a game to pause the action and bring up the Pause Options menu. This is where you can access your bullpen to switch pitchers, and to make other quality game adjustments.

Many of the pause options are the same or similar to those you have already seen, and we needn't go into them.

Bullpen: This is where seasons are won or lost. Wise use of your relief corps can make the difference between a ring and another October playing golf with your cousin.

To warm up a pitcher: Move a player from the bench to the bullpen. Pitchers have an ideal warm-up time. Too much will wear them down, too little leaves them "cold". Avoid injuries and ineffective innings by allowing proper warm-up time.

Place on Mound: Move a pitcher from the bullpen to the mound, take out the current pitcher.

SEASON

For the baseball fan who can't get enough, this is the stuff. The race for the pennant is long and hard, and offers the greatest test of skill. You can begin your quest in Spring Training, where you'll cull the cream from the contenders, then take your team (you can guide up to 4 teams!) through an entire season, complete with an All-Star game, and a host of sensational statistical data. Stick it through and see who merits a Cy Young award, the league's MVP, a Golden Glove, or a darn good talking to. If you've run a tight ship and injuries haven't decimated your squad, if your General Manager has an eye for talent and a taste for glory, if your players give it their all, you might make it to the Playoffs. Once you do, you'll know the hunger that only a World Series Championship ring can satisfy. Just ask any successful manager who struggled through playoffs to get to the Ultimate Prize. It's all worth it!

New Season Set-up

After selecting New Season (on the MLB Play menu), it's time to set-up your new Season.

Length of Season: Choose to play a 13/15 (AL/NL) or 26/30 game season against your league rivals, an 87 game schedule (3 games each against all 29 other teams), the 162 game MLB 1998 Season with Interleague play, or a traditionalist's 162 game season against league rivals only. The 87 and 162 game schedules feature a mid-season Home Run Derby™ and All-Star Game.

Spring Training: Toggle Spring Training mode ON or OFF. When set to off, the season begins immediately. When set to ON, you will enjoy all the complexities of preparing for a season. (For details, see Spring Training on page 17.)

Number of Innings: Set how many innings all season games will last. This option cannot be altered once a season has begun.

Game Mode: Choose Simulation (detailed control) or Arcade (faster games) mode.

Injuries: Choose to play with injuries OFF (no injuries), 1 game (injured players will only miss 1 game), or variable (injured players remain out until healed).

Finished: Move on to Team Selection.

Select Teams

Once you are through with New Season Set-up, you will be asked to select up to 4 teams to control for a season.

Teams are ranked by number in several significant categories, so take a look at the rankings before sentimentally saddling yourself with the local losers.

- Press ← or → to highlight a team (Alphabetically through the leagues).
- Press ↑ or ↓ to cycle between attributes.
- Press the A BUTTON to select teams (C ▼ BUTTON to cancel selection).
- Press START to exit menu with teams selected.

Season Standings/Options

This screen allows you to see your current standings (and a wealth of data, including Day/Night record, Grass/Turf record, etc.) and to access Season options.

Schedule/Play ball:

- ↑ or ↓ to scroll games on schedule.
- ← or → to switch among schedules for all your teams.
- Press the A BUTTON to play the next scheduled game.
- Press the C ▼ BUTTON to simulate all scheduled games up to the point selected.

SPRING TRAINING

Let's look at Spring training more closely. (If you are not into Spring Training, skip ahead.)

Basics: You will play 10 interleague (5 if you are playing less than an 87 game season schedule) spring training games with a 25 man roster. While in Spring Training, you can bring players up from the minor leagues, trade for players, cut players, and sign free agents. These moves are done via the General Manager mode (see page 20 for details).

Free agent pool: Any player released by any team in spring training goes into the free agent pool, where he becomes available to ANY team.

Stats: Tracked in pre-season will be reset when the season begins.

Minor League Roster: Generally consists of 10 players.

The All-Star Game

When you arrive at the midpoint in an 87 or 162 game season schedule, you will be able to guide either the National or American League All-Star team. Default rosters are pre-determined by tracking top performing players at each position in each league.

Home Run Derby™: See Home Run Derby™ for details (on page 19).

PLAYOFFS

In a season game, playoff teams are determined by the season standings.

New Playoffs

It's a long season, so if you want to get into post-season excitement without delay, try New Playoffs and start climbing the ladder to the top! Up to eight teams can vie for the championship in a New Playoff game.

Division: In the first round, 4 teams from each league (the 3 division leaders and a wild card team) battle through a wild card best-of-5 series. The next two rounds are best of seven contests.

Championship: If you triumph, move on to the League Championship, a two round best-of-7 series between 2 teams from each league.

World Series: One round best-of-7 contest between the AL and NL League Champions for the highest honor in baseball.

New Playoffs Set-Up:

Game Mode: Choose Simulation or Arcade play mode.

Beginning Series Level: Choose to start at the Division, League Championship or World Series level.

Team Select: Choose your own teams, or have the computer choose for you.

Number of Innings: Choose 1 to 9 inning playoff games.

Note: These options cannot be altered once the Playoffs have started.

Playoffs Team Selection

If you elected to choose your own Playoff teams, you will come to the Team Select screen, where you can select the number of teams appropriate to the playoff level selected. If you wish to make a partial selection, press the START BUTTON when you've selected as many teams as you want to, and the computer will select the remainder.

- Press ↑ or ↓ on the Control Pad/Stick to view team attributes.

- Press ← or → on Control Pad/Stick to switch between teams.
- Press the A BUTTON to select a highlighted team.
- C ▼ cancels last selected AL team, C ◀ cancels last selected NL team.
- Press the START BUTTON to finalize.

Next, you will see the Playoff Ladder, with AL teams on the left and NL teams on the right.

- Press ← or → on Control Pad/Stick to view playoff teams.
- Press A BUTTON to play highlighted game.
- Press C ▼ DOWN BUTTON to simulate highlighted game.

Pre-game Playoff options are identical to those in Exhibition mode.

HOME RUN DERBY™

Up to four game players (controlling up to 8 players) vie to be home run king in this classic mid-season competition (available in Season mode and as a separate mode). The Home Run Derby™ consists of elimination rounds, until only the mightiest bat is left. The number of rounds depends on how players are participating. Each player selects at least one batter from the available rosters. Each batter is allowed unlimited pitches, but any pitch a batter swings at which is not hit for homer is an out. The winner of the Home Run Derby™ is the player with the most homers in the final round. Distance counts, too.

Home Run Set-Up: First, select the number of players. Next, set how many outs per batter per round, from 5 up to 20.

Selecting Derby participants: Batters are listed for each team. At the player select screen:

- Press L or R BUTTON to cycle teams.
- Press ↑ or ↓ on the Control Pad/Stick to scroll players.
- Press the A BUTTON to select a player.

Note: Press L or R BUTTON to switch control of a Derby hitter between you and the computer.

GENERAL MANAGER

Selecting General Manager opens up a rich array of team management possibilities or a can of worms, depending on your outlook. This is where you make all your team-related adjustments. Changes made here are available in Spring Training, Exhibition, Home Run Derby™, New Playoff and New Season modes. General Manager mode is also available during a Season, but note that changes made there only apply to the current season.

Trade Players

Each team must have the required number and kind of roster players, depending on the league. Trades that would violate that minimum are not allowed. Traded players assume the place of their counterparts if they each play the same position. Otherwise, the next player in the same position assumes the departed player's place.

Minor league players must be promoted to the major league roster to be eligible for trading.

- Press L or R BUTTON to toggle between team areas.
- Press ← or → on Control Pad/Stick to switch teams in highlighted area.
- Press ↑ or ↓ on the Control Pad/Stick to scroll player highlight.
- Press the A BUTTON to propose a trade. Highlight TRADE PLAYERS or CANCEL and press the A BUTTON again.
- Press C ▼ BUTTON to switch between alphabetical or listing by position.
- Press the START or B BUTTON to return.

Roster Moves

This is the fast track where you sign free agents, cut players, place and remove players on the disabled list, call them up from the minors and coldly send them down. Enjoy!

Cut/Sign Player: Rather than trading for players, you may wish to sign one from the Free Agent Pool, or to send an overpaid bench jockey to tread water in it. Note that this is where all Created Players first appear. Free agents are ranked by letter grade. Controls are similar to those in Trade Players.

Promote/Demote Player: This option lets you access your Minor League roster. This becomes crucial when key players are injured or underperforming. Players on the Minor League roster are NOT available for trades (promote them to make them eligible). Controls are similar to those in Trade Players.

Disabled List: Put injured players on the DL and bring healed players off it. While players do not have to be put on the DL to recover, doing so greatly increases the recovery rate. Also, placing a player on the DL opens up a roster spot which you can then be filled via free agency or your minor league roster. The Disabled List shows each player's name, injury, days left until healthy, and whether he is eligible to come off the list. Time on the DL is based on the extent of the injury, and is affected by your injury option settings.

Set Lineup

You begin play with a number of default lineups, devised for play against left or right-handed pitching. This works just like the Change Lineup option in Exhibition mode.

Set Rotation

A default five man starting rotation is provided for each team. You may need to make adjustments to your rotation as pitchers get injured or prove ineffective or if you trade for a new starter.

Swap Pitchers: Pitchers in the rotation exchange places.

Substitute: Substitute a non-rotation starter for a rotation starter.

Switch Teams: Change starting rotations on other teams, too.

Note: Once a season has started, your rosters are linked to your season (once you save it). You cannot load new rosters during a season. Changes made to rosters belong only to Season mode. You cannot use these rosters in Playoffs or Exhibition modes.

CREATING AND EDITING A PLAYER

Creating your masterpiece

Once Create a Player has been selected, you will come to this screen featuring four menu items.

General Info: This is where you input first and last names, assign a number, a hometown and a date of birth.

To input letters:

- Press A BUTTON to turn letter input ON.
- Press ← or → on Control Pad/Stick to toggle characters.
- Press L or R BUTTON to move the cursor position.

General Info: This menu allows you to assign skin and hair color, facial hair, height, weight, position played, batting stance, throwing arm, bats (left, right or switch), type of hitter (push, pull or neutral), and for pitchers, delivery type.

Attributes: The position you assign to a player determines the range of attributes you will have available (pitchers and catchers have additional attributes). You are given a number of skill points to divide among the various attributes. Use the slider bars to increase or decrease amounts of an attribute. Players are given letter grades in all the important areas, as well as an overall value.

Pitching attributes: In addition to the standard attributes, pitchers are rated in stamina, accuracy, skill versus right- and left-handed hitting, which pitches they can throw, and both how well and how fast they throw each one. These use separate skill points.

Editing a Created Player

Once you have created and saved a player, you may wish go back and modify him in the future (like if he stinks, or looks goofy). To do so, select Edit Player on the main Create A Player screen, then pick the player you wish to edit. You will come to the familiar menu above, where you can fiddle to your heart's content.

Scouting Report

This option allows you to quickly compare strengths and weaknesses and an endless stream of statistical treasure.

SAVING AND LOADING

NOTE: A Nintendo Controller Pak is required to save and load game data.

At start up, you will be warned if your Controller Pak is full or if one is not inserted. If it is full, you may not be able to save some files, and you may wish to access the Controller Pak option on the Main Setup screen to Delete files before doing anything else.

You can access files on your Controller Pak from the Main Setup screen (Controller Pak option), after completing a Season or Playoff game, or by selecting Save from the GM menu (to save roster moves). A screen will appear which shows your current saved files and gives you the available Controller Pak options (Save, Load, Delete File and Exit). Not all options will be available at all times.

Saving Data: Select an open slot to save to. If all slots are full, you will be asked if you wish to overwrite an existing slot to make room for the new data. Select YES to do so. Season and Playoff game data can only be saved after a game. All saved Season data is linked to the season, including rosters, options settings, player stats and standings. Trades not saved will be lost when the console is powered down or reset; rosters will revert to the default.

Loading: Select the item you wish to load, and press the A or START BUTTON.

Make sure to review the instruction booklet that comes with your Controller Pak for details on memory management.

NOTES

INJURIES

Pitchers: Who go to or remain on the mound with less than 25% stamina risk injury. Hitting batters also gives a pitcher double the struck batter's injury points.

Fielders: Get injury points for any collision, including those made on offense (sliding into a catcher, getting hit by a pitch, etc.).

Fine Points:

- When a player is injured during a play, a pop up window indicating the injury will appear immediately after the play, at which time you must replace that player.
- A player cannot be injured more than twice in a season.
